AUSTRALIAN SINGLES REPORT

JIMMY BARNES: DIFFERENT SORT OF PAIN

JIMMY BARNES

With volume 2 of his memoirs, Jimmy Barnes leaps into the maelstrom of addiction, trauma, and Cold Chisel. By Andrew P Street

Australia was genuinely shocked when Jimmy Barnes wrote the first volume on his memoirs. Rock bios are not new, and Barnes' rollercoaster career had no shortage of the sex, drugs and rock'n'roll that typically feature in such tomes.

Except Working Class Boy wasn't a bacchanalian celebration of rock star excess: it was an unflinching and often harrowing story of poverty, addiction, child abuse, violence and a family tearing itself apart which ended right at the point where Barnes joined Cold Chisel - the point where you'd assume a typical rock bio would begin.

The response was incredible. It became a bestseller, it spawned a theatrical tour playing music and reading aloud sections from the book, and it started a national conversation about the cascading social costs of poverty. Barnes became an unlikely spokesperson for social justice, and the bar was set high for what everyone - Barnes included - assumed would be the sequel.

That book, Working Class Man, just debuted as the number one bestseller in the country.

And with the first book as his model, he wanted to show what sort of man comes out of such a violent, unsettled childhood and answer the question: what happens when someone with a lot of demons gets into a situation where he's rarely forced to take responsibility for them?

"It was sort of me trying to sift through a lifetime of good, bad, and ugly," he told TMN.

"Without using the childhood as an excuse, I wanted to look at the impact all that sort of stuff has on an adult. And it just so happened I was in a rock and roll band, which made a lot of it worse."

It begins right where the last book left off, with the young Cold Chisel hightailing it out of Adelaide, and follows Barnes through the band's rise and eventual split, the ups and downs of his solo career, his courtship of Jane Mahoney (his wife of almost four decades), and the arrival of his children.

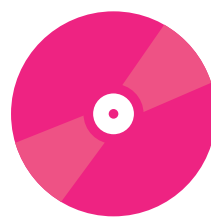

That's juxtaposed with the fallout of his addictions, his self-abuse, and at least two very-near deaths - including a drunken

Barnes' most successful album - For The Working Class Man is certified 7x Platinum in Australia.

He has nine #1 albums in Australia, more than any other local recording artist.

Jimmy Barnes was inducted into the ARIA Hall Of Fame in 2005.

Cold Chisel's 2015 single 'Lost' peaked at #13 on the TMN Hot 100 Australian chart and #10 on the Contemporary Rock chart.

mid-tour suicide attempt in a hotel room in Auckland.

“I remember lying there with this thing tied around my neck and going, ‘well, this isn’t fucking working, I want to go to bed,’” he says now.

“It was sort of like I was just seeing how hard dying was, but really by doing that I could have found out how easy it was. And it was only five years ago – but that seems like a fucking lifetime when you’ve only been really living for five years.”

He credits his survival to therapy, his family, and a fierce determination to make some difficult changes, but there are reminders in the book that lives rarely feature neat happy endings – as Barnes’ friend and former Models frontman James Freud tragically demonstrated after writing two books declaring his happiness and sobriety before ending his life in 2010.

“Those same demons are still there and they’re still snapping at my heels,” Barnes insists. “The only thing is that I can see them now and I’m trying not to react the same way as I would, but they are still there. I talk about James in the book, and I talk about Hutch [Michael Hutchence] – and I can’t speak for them, because nobody can speak for them – but I sort of think those times for both those guys could have just been this moment of bad chemistry, one step too far, one stupid decision.”

A childhood memoir is one thing, when many of the stories are historical and many of the characters have passed on, but in Working Class Man Barnes is writing about people that are very much alive and who are going to read what’s said about them – from his family and Chisel bandmates Don Walker,

Ian Moss and Phil Small, right through to record company executives like Mushroom’s Michael Gudinski and Geffen Record’s Gary Gersh, former managers, ex-producers...

“Every one of those people I wrote about, I felt like I was straddling a razor blade and sliding down a big hill. It was delicate, and I was worried about writing it,” he admits. “But before I released it, I let Don read all the Cold Chisel stuff and he went, ‘Yeah. I really like it. It’s not exactly the way I remember it, but...’”.

While the book takes us up to the present day, Barnes isn’t not planning to stop anytime soon.

“I think I have a bit more to write. I’m not sure exactly what I want to write about yet. I’m thinking about just because it’s been so intense to write about such personal stuff for so long, I’m thinking seriously about trying to write some fiction.”

Why so?

“Well, there’s some things I haven’t written about that were just so surreal and so outrageous that if you wrote them people would think you were lying. I think I can put them in fiction and they might believe it,” he laughs.

“I love the process of writing. After 45 years or whatever I’ve been screaming out at people, and to sit down and so to spend time at looking back in, trying to find stories and writing them down on paper, I’ve discovered is a process I really like.”

He pauses briefly. “Some of it’s been painful, but I’ve also enjoyed that pain. It’s a different sort of pain.”

PERFECT

Ed Sheeran | WMA

Ed Sheeran is at #1 for another week with 'Perfect', but it's P!NK that's making all the headlines. Both 'What About Us' and 'Beautiful Trauma' make ground at #3 and #4 respectively. P!NK is the first artist since Sheeran to have two singles in the Top 5, when 'Shape Of You' and 'Castle On The Hill' were both seen in the bracket back in March.

After blowing radio away with his track 'How Long' last month, Charlie Puth is setting more milestones. 'How Long' now marks Puth's highest performing single on the chart since 2016's 'We Don't Talk Anymore' ft. Selena Gomez. It's also has done what the producer's previous single 'Attention' could never do. After flirting on the precipice of the Top 10 for weeks, 'Attention' only got as high as #12 and failed to break the coveted Top 10.

Debuts on the chart this week come from David Guetta & Afrojack's 'Dirty Sexy Money' (#70), PNAU's 'Go Bang' (#72), and a pair of new Sam Smith tracks (#76/77).

#1 MOST ADDED TO RADIO

DIRTY SEXY MONEY

David Guetta & Afrojack ft. Charli XCX & French Montana | WMA

Commercial radio networks have wasted no time in adding David Guetta and Afrojack's new single 'Dirty Sexy Money' to their playlists.

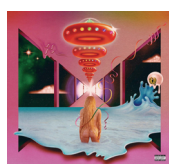

With a decorated feature list including British singer Charli XCX and hip hop artist French Montana, 'Dirty Sexy Money' was added to all Hit commercial stations and the entire Hit Regional Network, as well as Smallz's Surgery and Ash London LIVE. It was also the only single added to the Edge Network.

Rita Ora boasts another Top 10 finish - her third in a row - with newest single 'Anywhere'. After being added to a number of commercial stations over prior weeks, both KIIS stations and the ACE Radio Network have now confirmed the track's universal adoption across Australian radio.

#1 NEW SINGLE RELEASE

LEARN TO LET GO

Kesha | SME

Kesha continues her strong form in 2017 with 'Learn To Let Go'. It's the next cut off Rainbow and oozes with radio-ready hooks and a banging chorus. While previous single 'Praying' peaked at #4 on the TMN Hot 100 in September, her track 'Tik Tok' hit the top for five straight weeks in 2010.

Harry Styles will get a warm welcome from commercial. The next single off is self-titled album, 'Kiwi' gets its official service this week. Styles peaked at #3 on the Hot 100 with 'Sign Of The Times' after scoring one of the highest debuts ever on the chart.

Sheppard's 'Coming Home' and Keith Urban's 'Female' are also in the mix. In fact, Nova were so excited with the new Sheppard track that it made it onto airwaves within hours of release.

RADIO WRAP

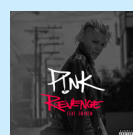

'Wolves' is this week's #1 Hot 100 Heatseeker as the Selena Gomez & Marshmello collab shoots to #10 on the chart from its #44 debut last week. The track mustered a total of 525 spins across Australia in its second week on air, doubling the previous week's spin count.

Meanwhile, Gang Of Youths' 'Let Me Down Easy' is now the most played song on Triple M explaining the song's ascension to the top of the TMN Contemporary Rock Chart.

Big Shaq has returned to the top of the Spotify Viral chart this week with 'Man's Not Hot' after its dip to #6, while Peking Duk's 'Let You Down' ft. Icona Pop has remained atop the Shazam Future Hits chart.

Following a seven-year hiatus from music, N.E.R.D have officially returned to the charts with their single 'Lemon' ft. Rihanna. The track is sitting at #8 on Shazam's Future Hits and following its jump to #51 on the AU Shazam Chart, it's now #4 on the Shazam Movers chart.

NEW SINGLE SPOTLIGHT

CARRY YOU

Rave Radio ft. Gamble & Burke | VICIOUS

Take one portion of pop, some dance floor sensibility, drop a sneaky little sample from iconic '80's hit 'Life In A Northern Town' and you have a summer smash. Queensland DJ/production duo Rave Radio have had a cracking few years. Since March, their Facebook page has had a combined 15 million video views from a number of viral videos taken from their energetic live sets, seeing them playing drums, pads and synths.

Their 2016 single 'Turn Me Out' has hit 3 million Spotify plays and new single 'Carry You' is already top 10 on the ARIA Club Chart and has notched up 200k spotify plays in just a few weeks. With over 250k Facebook fans, and voted top 5 in the inthemix DJ poll, 'Carry You' looks set to take Rave Radio to the next level.

OVERVIEW

Hockey Dad remain this week's #1 on the Alternative Hot 100 with 'Homely Feeling'. The track is the first single from their upcoming album Blend Inn which is due for release sometime next year.

Hayden James' 'NUMB' has dropped down to #3 on the AIR Singles chart, which has made way for The Rubens' 'Million Man' to rise to #2 on AIR Singles, #3 on the AIR Radio Play and #3 on the triple j Hit List.

Brisbane artist Mallrat is doing quite well across all Australian and Alternative charts with track 'Better'. It's coming in at #6 on the Alternative Hot 100, #5 on both AMRAP Charts, is the #4 top-spun track on triple j this week, and the #1 Hot 100 Breaker.

NEW SINGLE SPOTLIGHT

IN THIS MODERN LAND

City Calm Down | MUSHROOM

Melbourne four-piece City Calm Down reveal the latest track 'In This Modern Land' from the band's highly anticipated second album.

Soaring synths and horns, an exuberant, bold crescendo, all cemented by Bourke's striking, unmistakable baritone - heavy and as haunted as your conscience.

In 'In This Modern Land,' frontman Bourke adopts the perspective of a person coming to terms with, and perhaps embracing, their own social isolation. Contrasted with the soaring instrumentation and melodies, the lyrics highlight the growing disconnect between Bourke and his surroundings. Expect an album that explores the emotional idiosyncracies of our modern, changing world, rendered in glistening keyboards, chugging guitars and triumphant horns.
